

providing the legal help you need

Everyone will need legal help at some stage.

It may be help on a personal level, with a matter affecting you or your family or such things as selling your home or making a will.

Alternatively, it may be help with a matter affecting your business or business dealings, or even starting a business, buying or selling a property, making someone redundant or succession planning.

At Latimer Hinks we have specialist teams of experienced legal professionals who will provide the legal help and assistance you may need, covering:

- you & your family
- business & commercial
- farms & estates

Our team possesses high levels of expertise - levels normally associated with city-based law firms. You will find us approachable, knowledgeable and supportive. Our objective is to deal with matters quickly and efficiently and to provide clear, concise and practical advice.

memberships:

society of trust & estate practitioners (STEP)

Anne Elliott, Andrew Way, Elizabeth Armstrong, Natalie Palmer, Gillian Ibbotson, Jennifer Quayle, Luke Busbridge, Daniel Williams & Nadine Kilvington & Kelly Maguire are members (TEP). www.step.org

solicitors for the elderly

Andrew Way, Natalie Palmer, Gillian Ibbotson, Jennifer Quayle, Nadine Kilvington, Kelly Maguire & Daniel Williams are all members.
www.solicitorsfortheelderly.com

country land & business association

Neil Stevenson & Nicola Neilson are members.
www.cla.org.uk

agricultural law association

Nicola Neilson and Rosanne Tweddle are Fellows of the Agricultural Law Association. Anne Elliott & Neil Stevenson are members. www.ala.org.uk

comments from the Legal 500, 2017

the “Who’s Who” of the Law

personal tax, trusts and probate

Anne Elliott handles wills, trusts, tax planning and succession planning for high-net-worth individuals. Also recommended: Andrew Way, who is praised as ‘a first-rate lawyer’; Elizabeth Armstrong, who leads the trusts practice and specialises in tax, estate and succession planning; and ‘all-round professional’ Natalie Palmer, who heads the Court of Protection team.

commercial property

‘An exceptionally professional and pragmatic’ group, which includes Neil Stevenson, who is recommended for agricultural and renewable energy property issues; Nicola Neilson, who focuses on agricultural work; and the ‘very diligent’ Martin Williamson, who is the key name for residential property matters. Investment acquisition and disposal expert Adam Wood also advises on landed estates, mineral leases and secured lending mandates.

agriculture & estates

Go-to lawyer’ Anne Elliott is recommended for succession and inheritance tax planning. Neil Stevenson is noted for property issues and renewable energy projects, and ‘excellent all-rounder’ Nicola Neilson advises on property sales, purchases and leases. Other key names include the ‘trustworthy’ Elizabeth Armstrong and Adam Wood, who focus on estate administration and transactional matters respectively.

comments from Chambers UK, 2018

- publication ranking solicitors and barristers

Well-respected regional practice which advises on a number of specialist agricultural areas of law. Able to provide expertise in partnership agreements, inheritance tax and succession planning issues, mine and mineral rights and renewable energy projects. Also noted for its work in rural telecoms and other diversification matters.

...from Chambers UK High Net Worth Guide 2018

A source singles the firm out as “my out-of-town go-to firm,” adding: “They are a serious regional player. Well-connected, solid all-rounders whom I absolutely trust.” An adviser shares: “I’m happy to recommend Latimer Hinks as I know clients will receive an exceptional service.”